DAWES NOT A CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENCY

UNQUALIFIEDLY FOR CANDIDACY OF FRANK O. LOWDEN

VICE PRESIDENT SAYS HE WILL WORK FOR SIMPLIFICATION OF SENATE RULES

IT WILL NOT BE AGGRESSIVE, NOT WISHING TO EXPLOIT SELF POLITICALLY

Washington, Dec. 1.—(U.P.)—Vice President Charles G. Dawes, after calling at the White House today, declared he is not a candidate for president, and that he unqualifiedly supports the candidacy of former Gov. Lowden of Illinois.

Dawes said that while he would work this session for simplification of senate rules, he was not going to make an aggressive fight because whatever he said would be mistakenly interpreted as an effort on his part to exploit himself in a personal or political way.

The vice president, who called at the White House to pay respects, was extremely reticent on leaving the executive, but on being questioned by newspapermen became so agitated that he called them to the ante-room and with the aid of the White House stenographer, dictated a statement while pacing the floor excitedly.

Dawes said he favored the Norris amendment to the constitution abolishing the short session of congress.

If this amendment was adopted, he asserted, the evils of the filibuster would be lessened, but not at all destroyed. The filibuster in the last session resulted in a feeling among senators themselves that a change in the rules was not only advisable but necessary, he said.

Chicago, Dec. 1.—Vice President Dawes' disavowal of presidential aspirations today was in line with the attitude he has shown all along. President Clarence F. Buck, Illinois, close friend of Frank O. Lowden, said today.

Buck, who has had charge of the campaign to "impress upon Lowden the presidential need for him," said Dawes told him two weeks ago:

"Anyone who questions my sincerity in backing Lowden, questions my integrity."

Former Governor Lowden did not make a statement.

CONVINCED COOLIDGE WILL NOT BE CANDIDATE

Washington, Dec. 1.—The republican national committee is convinced that President Coolidge does not intend to be a candidate in 1928. R. B. Creager, committeeman from Texas, said after a call at the White House today.

It is obvious, however, Creager said, that the committee as well as the entire country, wants some additional expression from Mr. Coolidge as to his position. Creager said, adding that the national committee's work would undoubtedly be simplified if the committee knew definitely whether the president would accept renomination.

GOV. AL SMITH SEEMS RECEPTIVE CANDIDATE IN RACE

WILL NOT RAISE HIS HAND FOR DEMOCRATIC PRESIDENTIAL NOMINATION

WILL NOT LET WORKERS SEEK ABROGATION OF TWO-THIRDS RULE

By PAUL R. MALLON (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Dec. 1.—Gov. Al Smith does not intend to raise his hand for the 1928 democratic presidential nomination and will not let his workers seek abrogation of the two-thirds rule, Senator Copeland, democrat, New York, declared here today.

In the face of continued silence from Albany and New York City over the Smith candidacy, Copeland explained the plans of the Smith group.

Although he spoke for himself, his eminence in the Smith forces was regarded as giving his remarks the authority of a definite pronouncement on what that group of the democratic party is thinking about and what it intends to do.

"Smith does not want abrogation of the two-thirds rule," the senator told the United Press. "He wants to be chosen by the rule which has prevailed all along in democratic national conventions."

"I think he is certain of a majority soon after the convention starts. There will be a lot of favorite sons like Donahue of Ohio, Glass of Virginia, Walsh of Montana, Ritchie of Maryland, Woolen of Indiana and Phelan of California to start. A large portion of these favorite son delegates will go to Smith before the convention is very old. When he gets a majority, I think the others will be ashamed into voting for him. They will have no other excuse to hold out than that he is a Catholic."

"I think Smith will be nominated and elected. Vice President Dawes is the republican who would be strongest against him. I do not think Mr. Coolidge will consent to be drafted. I don't think Hoover can get the nomination because moneyed interests are against him."

"I believe, however, that Charles E. Hughes has a good chance because the republicans want to carry New York state in the election and Hughes is the only man who can give Smith a battle there. But even against Hughes, I think Smith can carry the state overwhelmingly."

"No matter whom the republicans nominate, I think Smith will win because he should have the east and the south with considerable strength from the west."

By SAM LOVE (United Press Staff Correspondent)

"He said he had a racket with the old man and had to shoot him," Bark testified.

GOLD-BRICK GAME BACK AS ORDINARY BRICK

Leavenworth, Kan., Dec. 1.—(U.P.)—The gold-brick game is back. Only it isn't a gold brick. It is just a common, ordinary paving brick.

The negro puts a discarded paving brick into a cardboard box, ties it up, seeks his thirsty-looking victim, and offers the box and contents as "rare old stuff" for $1, $3, $2, or what have you.

The victim produces the necessary coin, takes the box—and brick—and hies away to shake his thirst.

SHOW PICTURE OF GEORGE REMUS IN MANIACAL MOOD

PRESENTED TO JURY AT HIS TRIAL ON CHARGE OF MURDERING WIFE

JOHN T. ROGERS, TELLS OF INCIDENT HE THOUGHT REVEALED INSANITY

By PAUL W. WHITE

Courtroom, Cincinnati, Dec. 1.—Another picture of George Remus in a maniacal mood, struggling and pleading with friends to permit him to "go and avenge his honor" today was presented to the jury at his trial on the charge of murdering his wife Imogene.

John T. Rogers, reporter for the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, was recalled to tell of an incident he omitted yesterday in describing events that led to his conclusion Remus was insane before the killing.

Rogers said he and George Connors, described as a "lieutenant" of the former multi-millionaire bootlegger, were with Remus in an Indianapolis hotel room during the Jack Daniels liquor conspiracy trial in December, 1925.

"John Berger, a Los Angeles exposition manager, came into the room," Rogers related, "and said 'George, your wife and Dodge are now down in his room on the fourth floor having a highball party.'"

The "Dodge" referred to was Franklin L. Dodge, Jr., former department of justice investigator, whose reported intimacies and conspiracies with Mrs. Remus allegedly impaired Remus' mind.

"Remus shot out of his chair and dashed for the door," Rogers went on. "He was shrieking. Connors and I grabbed him and put Berger out of the room."

"For about 10 minutes Remus raved for not letting him, as he said, 'avenge his honor.'"

"He struggled with us, fought wildly and struck out. At length he became subdued but was in a state of collapse."

Shortly before Charles P. Elston, defense counsel, had read to the jury a contract allegedly drawn up among Dodge, Matt Hingle of Cleveland and a man named Wolf.

The contract referred to sale of whiskey allegedly owned by Remus.

ARE AGAINST PETITION OF UNIFICATION

PLANS UNDER WAY FOR A SERIES OF MASS MEETINGS

ACTION IS EXPECTED TO WIN FAVOR WITH WASHINGTON COMMISSION

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 1.—(U.P.)—Foes of the proposed merger of the Northern Pacific and Great Northern railroads, organized under the leadership of St. Paul through Mayor Hodgson today prepared to hit harder in their demands that the interstate commerce commission deny the unification petition.

The city of St. Paul has succeeded in banding together the civic and civil organizations of practically every city and village affected by the two railroads, and plans are under way for a series of mass meetings through which concrete action is expected to win favor with the Washington commission.

The new angle in the fight was the result of a statement by Ralph Budd, president of the Great Northern railroad, made at Seattle, in which he declared that Mayor Hodgson in his appeal to the city officials of the northwest to oppose the proposed unification is inspired more by what he mistakenly conceives to be the immediate interests of St. Paul than by any concern over the welfare of the northwest.

The railroad president suggested that Mayor Hodgson in his recent letter to other mayors, has given the impression that he is expressing the sentiment of St. Paul business interests.

The escape was not discovered for hours after the bandit was free. Vigilantes and deputy sheriffs were searching for him today.

Harmon was believed to have escaped in a stolen automobile.

RUSSIA PREDICTS NEW, GIGANTIC WORLD WAR

HANDS IN MEMORANDUM AT DISARMAMENT COMMISSION

ROLES OF LIBERALS AND PACIFISTS IN POST-WAR DIPLOMACY DERIDED

By FREDERICK KUH (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Geneva, Dec. 1.—Russia today followed up her demand for immediate and complete disarmament by handing the preparatory disarmament commission an eleven-page memorandum predicting a new and unprecedentedly gigantic war.

The memorandum was handed in by Maxim M. Litvinoff, foreign undersecretary and head of the Soviet delegation, who yesterday presented the demand for disarmament.

After denouncing efforts to fix the guilt for the start of the last war, the new memorandum declared that such discussions aimed not to find the real origins of the war but to seek a pretext for waging it.

Roles played by liberals and pacifists in post-war diplomacy were derided in the memorandum.

"Their catchwords numbed the consciences of hundreds of thousands of people," it declared.

The memorandum detailed world war casualties and post-war debts. "Despite that disaster," it continued, "the world is frenziedly heaping up new armaments while the League of Nations is reviving chimerical hopes."

The Russian memorandum computed the material cost of the world war as $247,922,000,000—besides indirect damage suffered by private European property owners, which was estimated at $29,960,000,000, and loss of shipping tonnage worth $6,800,000,000.

The memorandum cited the United States as an example of what would happen in the war to come.

"Experts declare that 100 tons of bombs, launched from 50 airplanes, could make New York uninhabitable for at least a week," it said.

The memorandum added that "Americans, scorning European hypocrisy, frankly announce their intention of using poison gases and infective bacteria in the next war."

The assertion was based on statements alleged to have appeared in the American Infantry Journal and similar publications.

Russia, the memorandum said, maintained an army of 562,000 compared with one of 1,350,000 under the czar. Victorious nations in the world war, it continued, had added to their armies 1,183,000 men since the Armistice, and had increased their military budgets by $712,000,000.

The Washington naval conference, it said, had resulted only in nations turning to "feverish" construction of cruisers, submarines, destroyers and seaplanes instead of battleships that the conference limited.

The United States, Great Britain, France, Japan and Italy, it charged, were constructing this year 37 warships, besides deciding to construct 181 more in future.

"Undoubtedly the next war will cause infinitely greater disasters than any humanity has known," it concluded.

Wabasha, Minn., Dec. 1.—(U.P.)—A jury composed of eight women and four men late Wednesday found Adam Redding, 76-year-old Mazonia farmer not guilty of a statutory charge alleging an offense against a 13-year-old girl.

LOWER MARKS FORECAST BEFORE END OF THE WEEK

STRONG NORTHWEST WINDS ARE SWEEPING OUT OF ALASKA AND CANADA

DROP OF MORE THAN FORTY DEGREES REPORTED IN SOME PLACES

(By United Press)

The midwest shivered today in the coldest weather of the season, with temperatures in many sections below zero and forecasts predicting even lower marks before the end of the week.

Strong northwest winds, sweeping out of Alaska and Canada, sent thermometers tumbling after several unseasonably warm November days. A drop of more than 40 degrees was reported in some places.

Snowfall, rapidly rising water, and disrupted wire communication and transportation added to the discomfort in several sections.

Indiana probably was the most severely hit by the sudden turn. A biting sleet storm isolated the central part of the state for a time yesterday by disrupting telephone and telegraph service and halting train movements.

Rapidly rising waters throughout the Wabash valley added to the suffering. Brown county reported the most serious flood since 1913.

Snow fell in Nebraska, Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, the Texas Panhandle and parts of Illinois. The fall in parts of Missouri is said to be the heaviest since 1906.

Only one death had been reported. The body of a railroad worker was found near Grand Junction, Colo. He had been lost in a blizzard.

Hibbing, Minn., reported the lowest temperature yesterday—18 degrees below zero.

Carbondale, Ill., reported a heavy snowfall followed a drop of 40 degrees in temperature. Highways surrounding Centralia were made impassable by a downpour of rain, followed by a severe snow storm.

Professor Henry Cox, district weather forecaster at Chicago, said no relief could be expected before early next week. He predicted lower temperatures, but added there would be no snowfall of consequence.

The western half of Canada also shivered in the intensely cold weather. Edmonton, Alberta, reported a low mark of 26 below zero and reports from other cities were correspondingly low.

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 1.—(U.P.)—Snow riding on the crest of a cold wave, was falling in many parts of the northwest today.

Hibbing, Minn., believed to be one of the coldest points to report was grasped in temperatures reaching 20 degrees below zero early today while at other parts of Minnesota temperatures ranged within a few degrees of the low mark set Wednesday.

Winnipeg which Wednesday reported 6 below zero, early today recorded 12 degrees below.

Brainerd, Minn., reported 5 degrees below zero early today. The sky was cloudy.

At St. Paul snow began falling at dawn with the mercury at 6 degrees above zero—one degree warmer than the low mark for the season set Wednesday.

Snow was reported at Moorhead and Little Falls, with a gradual rise in temperatures.

From Red Wing, Faribault and Fairmont came reports of zero weather early today with rising temperatures and snow.

ALMANAC IN PREDICTION OF BIG WAR IN 1928

London, Dec. 1.—(U.P.)—Old Moore's Almanac, issued today, predicts for 1928 "a war for which the struggle of 1914-1918 was but a dress rehearsal."

The famous almanac, with its annual forecasts of events month by month during the year, has predicted many correctly but its prescience is somewhat detracted from because many predictions are worded in such fashion that any one of several things might fit in.

Rogers said he and George Connors, described as a "lieutenant" of the former multi-millionaire bootlegger, were with Remus in an Indianapolis hotel room during the Jack Daniels liquor conspiracy trial in December, 1925.

"John Berger, a Los Angeles exposition manager, came into the room," Rogers related, "and said 'George, your wife and Dodge are now down in his room on the fourth floor having a highball party.'"

The "Dodge" referred to was Franklin L. Dodge, Jr., former department of justice investigator, whose reported intimacies and conspiracies with Mrs. Remus allegedly impaired Remus' mind.

"Remus shot out of his chair and dashed for the door," Rogers went on. "He was shrieking. Connors and I grabbed him and put Berger out of the room."

"For about 10 minutes Remus raved for not letting him, as he said, 'avenge his honor.'"

"He struggled with us, fought wildly and struck out. At length he became subdued but was in a state of collapse."

Shortly before Charles P. Elston, defense counsel, had read to the jury a contract allegedly drawn up among Dodge, Matt Hingle of Cleveland and a man named Wolf.

The contract referred to sale of whiskey allegedly owned by Remus.

Karachi, India, Dec. 1.—(UP)—Latest advices today were that 2,139 persons had died of cholera in an epidemic in Bengal out of 3,703 cases under treatment last week end.

Physicians believe the epidemic is the severest in many decades. The Calcutta health officer has warned citizens to prepare for a further alarming spread of the disease.

ARE AGAINST PETITION OF UNIFICATION

PLANS UNDER WAY FOR A SERIES OF MASS MEET-INGS

ACTION IS EXPECTED TO WIN
FAVOR WITH WASHINGTON
COMMISSION

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 1.—(UP)—Foes of the proposed merger of the Northern Pacific and Great Northern railroads, organized under the leadership of St. Paul through Mayor Hodgson today prepared to hit harder in their demands that the interstate commerce commission deny the unification petition.

The city of St. Paul has succeeded in banding together the civic and civil organizations of practically every city and village affected by the two railroads, and plans are under way for a series of mass meetings through which concrete action is expected to win favor with the Washington commission.

The new angle in the fight was the result of a statement by Ralph Budd, president of the Great Northern railroad, made at Seattle, in which he declared that Mayor Hodgson in his appeal to the city officials of the northwest to oppose the proposed unification is inspired more by what he mistakenly conceives to be the immediate interests of St. Paul than by any concern over the welfare of the northwest.

The railroad president suggested that Mayor Hodgson in his recent letter to other mayors, has given the impression that he is expressing the sentiment of St. Paul business interests.

GANGSTER SAYS WAY OUT OF JAIL

ROY HARMON, TRUE TO TRADI-TIONS OF RAY TERRELL
GANG

Charles City, Ia., Dec. 1.—(UP)—True to the slippery traditions of the Ray Terrell gang of Oklahoma outlaws, Roy Harmon, member of the gang, sawed his way out of the Floyd county jail last night. It was discovered this morning.

The escape was not discovered for hours after the bandit was free. Vigilantes and deputy sheriffs were searching for him today.

Harmon was believed to have escaped in a stolen automobile. Terrell has escaped repeatedly from southwestern jails, and many of his associates also have found prison bars only a slight impediment to freedom.

Harmon pleaded guilty yesterday on a charge of attempted bank robbery. He was arrested in a hospital here after he had been knocked unconscious in an automobile accident.

RUSSIA PREDICTS NEW, GIGANTIC WORLD WAR

HANDS IN MEMORANDUM AT DISARMAMENT COM-MISSION

ROLES OF LIBERALS AND PACI-
FISTS IN POST-WAR DIPLO-MACY DERIDED

By FREDERICK KUH
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Geneva, Dec. 1.—Russia today followed up her demand for immediate and complete disarmament by handing the preparatory disarmament commission an eleven-page memorandum predicting a new and unprecedentedly gigantic war.

The memorandum was handed in by Maxim M. Litvinoff, foreign undersecretary and head of the Soviet delegation, who yesterday presented the demand for disarmament.

After denouncing efforts to fix the guilt for the start of the last war, the new memorandum declared that such discussions aimed not to find the real origins of the war but to seek a pretext for waging it.

Roles played by liberals and pacifists in post-war diplomacy were derided in the memorandum.

"Their catchwords numbed the consciences of hundreds of thousands of people," it declared.

The memorandum detailed world war casualties and post-war debts. "Despite that disaster," it continued, "the world is frenziedly heaping up new armaments while the League of Nations is reviving chimerical hopes."

The Russian memorandum computed the material cost of the world war as $247,922,000,000—besides indirect damage suffered by private European property owners, which was estimated at $29,960,000,000, and loss of shipping tonnage worth $6,800,000,000.

The memorandum cited the United States as an example of what would happen in the war to come.

"Experts declare that 100 tons of luists, launched from 50 airplanes, could make New York uninhabitable for at least a week," it said.

The memorandum added that "Americans, scornful European hypocrisy, frankly announce their intention of using poison gases and infective bacteria in the next war."

The assertion was based on statements alleged to have appeared in the American Infantry Journal and similar publications.

Russia, the memorandum said, maintained an army of 562,000 compared with one of 1,350,000 under the czar. Victorious nations in the world war, it continued, had added to their armies 1,183,000 men since the Armistice, and had increased their military budgets by $712,000,000.

The Washington naval conference, it said, had resulted only in nations turning to "feverish" construction of cruisers, submarines, destroyers and seaplanes instead of battleships that the conference limited.

The United States, Great Britain, France, Japan and Italy, it charged, were constructing this year 37 warships, besides deciding to construct 181 more in future.

"Undoubtedly the next war will cause infinitely greater disasters than any humanity has known," it concluded.

Wabasha, Minn., Dec. 1.—(UP)—A jury composed of eight women and four men late Wednesday found Adam Redding, 76-year-old Mazonia farmer not guilty of a statutory charge alleging an offense against a 13-year-old girl.

LOWER MARKS FORECAST BEFORE END OF THE WEEK

STRONG NORTHWEST WINDS ARE SWEEPING OUT OF ALASKA
AND CANADA

DROP OF MORE THAN FORTY DE-GREES REPORTED IN SOME PLACES

(By United Press)

The midwest shivered today in the coldest weather of the season, with temperatures in many sections below zero and forecasts predicting even lower marks before the end of the week.

Strong northwest winds, sweeping out of Alaska and Canada, sent thermometers tumbling after several unseasonably warm November days. A drop of more than 40 degrees was reported in some places.

Snowfall, rapidly rising water, and disrupted wire communication and transportation added to the discomfort in several sections.

Indiana probably was the most severely hit by the sudden turn. A biting sleet storm isolated the central part of the state for a time yesterday by disrupting telephone and telegraph service and halting train movements.

Rapidly rising waters throughout the Wabasha valley added to the suffering. Brown county reported the most serious flood since 1913.

Snow fell in Nebraska, Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, the Texas Panhandle and parts of Illinois. The fall in parts of Missouri is said to be the heaviest since 1906.

Only one death had been reported. The body of a railroad worker was found near Grand Junction, Colo. He had been lost in a blizzard.

Hibbing, Minn., reported the lowest temperature yesterday—18 degrees below zero.

Carbondale, Ill., reported a heavy snowfall followed a drop of 40 degrees in temperature. Highways surrounding Centralia were made impassable by a downpour of rain, followed by a severe snow storm.

Professor Henry Cox, district weather forecaster at Chicago, said no relief could be expected before early next week. He predicted lower temperatures, but added there would be no snowfall of consequence.

The western half of Canada also shivered in the intensely cold weather. Edmonton, Alberta, reported a low mark of 26 below zero and reports from other cities were correspondingly low.

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 1.—(UP)—Snow riding on the crest of a cold wave, was falling in many parts of the northwest today.

Hibbing, Minn., believed to be one of the coldest points to report was grasped in temperatures reaching 20 degrees below zero early today while at other parts of Minnesota temperatures ranged within a few degrees of the low mark set Wednesday.

Winnipeg which Wednesday reported 6 below zero, early today recorded 12 degrees below.

Brainerd, Minn., reported 5 degrees below zero early today. The sky was cloudy.

At St. Paul snow began falling at dawn with the mercury at 6 degrees above zero—one degree warmer than the low mark for the season set Wednesday.

Snow was reported at Moorhead and Little Falls, with a gradual rise in temperatures.

From Red Wing, Faribault and Fairmont came reports of zero weather early today with rising temperatures and snow.

ALMANAC IN PREDICTION OF BIG WAR IN 1928

London, Dec. 1.—(UP)—Old Moore's Almanac, issued today, predicts for 1928 "a war for which the struggle of 1914-1918 was but a dress rehearsal."

The famous almanac, with its annual forecasts of events month by month during the year, has predicted many correctly but its presence is somewhat detracted from because many predictions are worded in such fashion that any one of several things might fit in.

We love to see the feathery snow. Come down in flocks and flocks. 'Cause then our STANDARD's best you know. To warm your shoes and sox.

Have you ever seen the stores in Brainerd look prettier than they do this holiday season?

We hope you're doing all your Christmas shopping right here in Brainerd.

No, the moon does not affect the tide—just the untied.

We want to repeat the annual warning—keep the lighted candles away from the Christmas tree decorations and Santa's whiskers.

The honeymoon, we'll bet is fun. When the bride does all she wishes. But married life has not begun 'Til the bride does all the dishes.

We just can't help talking STANDARD COAL, when the thermometer loses all sense of balance. There is something so warm and satisfying about STANDARD that thermometers are entirely forgotten.

A Minneapolis paper corrected an item the other day. In a society local, it referred to "the lonely home." What was meant, the correction explained, was "the lovely home."

There are a lot of things that bother us in the lumber and fuel business, but a persistent solicitor is the limit.

Walk slowly, stranger, past this post. For here is buried Adam Yost. He took a drink of home made stuff. To see if it was old enough.

Lift Off—No Pain!
Hard corns, soft corns, corns between the toes and callouses lift right off! You'll laugh—it is so easy and does not hurt a bit! Just drop "Freezone" on any tender, touchy corn. Instantly it stops aching; then shortly you just lift that old bothersome corn right off with your fingers. It works like a charm, every time. Seems magic! A tiny bottle of "Freezone" costs only a few cents at any drug store. Try it!

Get complete details TOMORROW at Ford salesrooms

FOR several years we have been working on the new Ford car. For weeks and months you have been hearing rumors about it. For the past few days you have been reading some of the details of it in the newspapers.

Whatever you do tomorrow, take at least fifteen minutes to get the full story of this new automobile.

You will realize then that it is an entirely new and different Ford car, designed and created to meet modern conditions—a car that brings you more beauty, speed, quiet, comfort, safety, economy and stamina than you ever thought possible in a low-price car.

Automobile history will be made tomorrow, for the new Ford is not only new in appearance and performance . . . it is new in mechanical design. Many features of it are exclusive Ford developments. Some are wholly new in automobile practice. Its low price is a reflection of manufacturing improvements and economies that are as epoch-making as the car itself.

Nineteen years of experience in building 15,000,000 automobiles are behind the new Ford car and have counted in its making. Resources unmatched in the motor car industry are its heritage and its birthright.

The Ford policy of owning the source of raw materials, of making virtually every part, of doing business at a small profit per car, has cut many dollars off the price you would ordinarily have to pay for a car like this.

So we say to you—learn about this new Ford car tomorrow. Compare it with any other car in the light-car field for beauty of line—for comfort—for speed—for quick acceleration—for flexibility in traffic . . . for steadiness at all speeds . . . for power on the hills . . .

for economy and low cost of up-keep . . . for its sturdy ability to stand up under countless thousands of miles of service.

Then you will know why tomorrow will be remembered as one of the greatest days in the entire history of the automobile industry. . . . Then you will know why the new Ford car will be your car.

BREAKS OF THE GAME

FOOTBALL, like the squared circle, seems to have its seventh round aftermath and a question raised as to acts of the referee. Drury of the University of Southern California questions the decision made on a forward pass. The game between the Californians and Rockne's Notre Dame men was a close one, 7 to 6, and the Californians say they "lost out" on the breaks.

Any fan knows that breaks decide a close game, whether it's football, baseball, basketball or any other athletic game. The more evenly teams are matched, the more a break weighs in the scale, bringing victory to the one making the best of the break.

Just as the fine points in the Dempsey-Tunney fight were discussed and the referee's actions were run over with a fine comb, so the umpire at the U. S. C.-Notre Dame game is coming in for discussion, criticism, etc.

The stove league will have something to talk about all winter and every fan as well as player is entitled to his opinion.

SAVAGES HAVE COMPANIONATE MARRIAGES

DOWN in Kansas a foolish girl and boy, under the approval of more foolish parents, have taken on a companionate marriage, with no responsibility either financially or otherwise. This, says the St. Cloud Daily Journal-Press, is heralded as something new.

It has been the custom of many primitive races for centuries. It was the common practice of the Chippewas, and probably other tribes of Indians, to trade squaws, or to discard the old one and take on a new one, whenever the spirit moved.

These "advanced" theorists are simply retrograding back to the aboriginal custom, and are advocating free love under the publicity of mutual agreement for a season. It is a surrender to sexual passions cowardly shirking all responsibility.

UNUSUAL MARRIAGE CUSTOM

THE Duluth Herald tells of an unusual marriage custom observed among those of Slavonian descent and recently exemplified in a wedding in this state.

"According to the custom of some of the people from the Slavonic countries, the bridegroom is said to have bought the largest apple he could find and in it placed gold pieces, in this case to the amount of around $200. The apple and ring he then placed in front of the bride-to-be, and started to leave. Accepting the apple and ring, the girl agreed to be married."

A Statement From The County Health Officer

To Editor Dispatch, Brainerd, Minn.

Regarding the administration of Toxin-Antitoxin for the immunization (prevention) of diphtheria, beg to say that, I consider such a procedure as still in the experimental stage and wish to warn parents in as much as they might be sadly disappointed by having their children so treated become ill and succumb to diphtheria.

The facts are that the results have been disappointing because in some of our large cities where Toxin-Antitoxin had been administered to thousands of school children and then six months or more thereafter these same children have been tested out to determine their immunity or susceptibility only about 75 per cent or less have been shown to be immune. In other words 25 per cent or more of children immunized with Toxin-Antitoxin might still become ill and succumb from diphtheria.

I do not wish to be understood as being opposed to the administration of Toxin-Antitoxin for preventing diphtheria. No doubt it is a step in the right direction but it is not 100 per cent proof or protection against diphtheria and warn parents not to be misled by any such statement and thereafter sadly disappointed. I am for the prevention of disease but believe the public are entitled to the true facts in regard to any preventive measures.

Signed, R. A. BEISE,
Chairman Crow Wing County Health Board.

BLANKET ORDER FOR CHANGES IN POWER AND WAVE LENGTH

Washington, Dec. 1.—(U.P.)—The Federal Radio commission's blanket order for changes in power, wavelength or time, affecting 146 stations throughout the nation, went into effect at 6 a. m. today.

By the changes the commission hopes to clear numerous radio channels, improve reception and eliminate interference between stations close together.

Under the order some stations merely had call letters changed, while others were increased or decreased in power and wavelength, with a number of stations shifted in time division.

The commission said hearings on reallocation by dissatisfied stations would not be held until the changes have had time to show their effect.

Washington, Dec. 1.—(U.P.)—Proper clearance of radio channels will necessitate ultimate elimination of nearly 330 stations, Commissioner Samson said today.

Pickard of the Federal Radio commission announced the commission decided today to begin plans for this elimination program following up its blanket order for changes on wave lengths, power and time division of 146 stations, effective today.

The commission has decided to extend until February 1, 1928, all licenses expiring December 31.

The commission hopes to have 25 more channels cleared by February 1.

MINNESOTA POWER & LIGHT COMPANY

In the Hudson high-compression design, the raw gas enters through intake valve and falls directly on exhaust valve. The hot exhaust valve is thus a hot spot which thoroughly vaporizes the gasoline while the liquid tends to keep the valve cool. This makes a cold motor operate on regular gasoline with the snap which other types seek through special fuels. Crankcase dilution is prevented and fuel once ignited is turned to useful power. And there is more power, greater economy and longer life.

Note the special combustion chamber effect from the cylinder bore and the location of the spark plug with relation to the cylinder and piston. Instead of the violent initial explosion taking place immediately above the piston, it occurs at the remotest part of the special chamber, which cushions its severity and greatly increases its power. By the time the pressure reaches the piston, its violent harshness and roughness is entirely absent and the Hudson gets away with the dash and smoothness of a steam engine—and the desirable performance is accomplished with low-grade fuel.

This Leadership exclusive in High-Compression Performance

The almost universal trend to the high-compression motor only serves to emphasize the exclusive method, advantages and results achieved by the Hudson Super-Six in this development.

While conventional types depend upon special, costlier fuels to minimize roughness, the Hudson design uses any gasoline, delivering the extra power with the elastic smoothness of a steam engine.

Combined with the Super-Six principle this new invention makes Hudson the most powerful and economical car per pound weight in the world.

The extraordinary speed of Hudson getaway is but a single expression of the brilliant activity of the New Hudson Super-Six, which is carried on to every phase of performance. You see it in the rapidity with which it rolls into high speed; the effortless ease with which it sustains fast going; the long, reliable service through which it maintains its smooth and brilliant performance.

A single ride will explain why this has been the most enthusiastically accepted Hudson ever built.

In the Hudson high-compression design, the raw gas enters through intake valve and falls directly on exhaust valve. The hot exhaust valve is thus a hot spot which thoroughly vaporizes the gasoline, while the liquid tends to keep the valve cool. This makes a cold motor operate on regular gasoline with the snap which other types seek through special fuels. Crankcase dilution is prevented and fuel once wasted is turned to useful power. And there is more power, greater economy and longer life.

Note the special combustion chamber offset from the cylinder bore and the location of the spark plug with relation to the cylinder and piston. Instead of the violent initial explosion taking place immediately above the piston, it occurs at the remotest part of the special chamber, which cushions its severity and greatly increases its power. By the time the pressure reaches the piston, its violent harshness and roughness is entirely absent and the Hudson gets away with the dash and smoothness of a steam engine—and the desirable performance is accomplished with low-grade fuel.

This Leadership exclusive in High-Compression Performance

The almost universal trend to the high-compression motor only serves to emphasize the exclusive method, advantages and results achieved by the Hudson Super-Six in this development.

While conventional types depend upon special, costlier fuels to minimize roughness, the Hudson design uses any gasoline, delivering the extra power with the elastic smoothness of a steam engine.

Combined with the Super-Six principle this new invention makes Hudson the most powerful and economical car per pound weight in the world.

The extraordinary speed of Hudson getaway is but a single expression of the brilliant activity of the New Hudson Super-Six, which is carried on to every phase of performance. You see it in the rapidity with which it rolls into high speed; the effortless ease with which it sustains fast going; the long, reliable service through which it maintains its smooth and brilliant performance.

A single ride will explain why this has been the most enthusiastically accepted Hudson ever built.

STOVE LEAGUE IS ENGINEERING BASEBALL TRADES

FOOTBALL SEASON IS BURIED UNDER WINTER'S SNOWS

PRINCIPAL COMMENT CENTER-ING ABOUT GEORGE SISLER OF BROWNS

URBAN SHOCKER, THE VETERAN YANKEE, MAY LEAVE THE CHAMPIONS' FOLD

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Dec. 1.—Now that the football season has been disposed of winter comment is turning towards baseball with the stove league engineering numerous trades.

The principal one seems to involve George Sisler, first baseman and former manager of the St. Louis Browns. Sisler has been an idol in St. Louis. He once was voted the most valuable player in the American League, he has hit well over 400 and his fielding is classic. Yet last year when Sisler hit only .326 there came a feeling through the major leagues that Sisler would do better in another uniform.

Dan Howley, manager of the Browns and the one who succeeded Sisler, always has said he could find. However, talk this year indicates no better first baseman than Sisler, that Howley may dispose of Sisler.

One trade often mentioned is that Sisler will go to the Detroit Tigers for Heinie Manush, Lou Blue and A. Wingo. Supposedly well informed quarters say this trade will be announced shortly.

To counteract that comes the rumor that Sisler will go to Washington in exchange for Joe Judge.

Another rumor puzzling the stove leaguers says Urban Shocker, veteran Yankee, will no longer be a member of the world champions. A recent statement of Miller Huggins, New York manager, as to his 1928 pitching staff, failed to include Shocker's name.

Rumors immediately had it that Shocker was to be traded off this winter but so far no one has been able to find any place to put him.

It also seems certain that Clint Rhem and Lester Bell will not be with the St. Louis Cardinals next season. The new manager of the Cardinals, Bill McKechnie, has let it be known that they are trading material.

The rumor gained momentum that these two would come to the New York Giants for Lindstrom and Barnes. This was promptly spiked by John McGraw who said he would not trade Lindstrom for a park-full of bells and that he was not especially keen about Rhem.

Then there is the case of the two veterans—Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker. Both are available for this season and rumor has it that either one or both may go to the Giants. McGraw merely says he is willing to "think over" both players.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Dec. 1.—The schedule committee for the major league baseball clubs completed its work this afternoon and announced the opening and closing dates for both leagues for the coming season.

Both will open on Wednesday, April 11, and close on Sunday, Sept. 30, the committee announced.

President John Heydler and Barney Dreyfuss represented the National League and President E. S. Barnard and William Harridge the American League.

SOUTHERN MINNESOTA HOCKEY LEAGUE GAMES OPEN DEC. 26

Southern Minnesota will inaugurate a new hockey league, when all of the six teams in the Southern Minnesota Hockey League swing into action on rinks in three of the member cities.

The schedule for the league, which opens Dec. 26 and closes Feb. 5, was announced today. Each of the clubs have eight games to be played on Sundays, five of which will be at home because all of South St. Paul's battles will be played away from the Twin Cities.

On the opening day, the Rochester sextet, headed by the flashy Joe Sills, will invade Winona; South St. Paul will be the guests of Faribault, and Owatonna will entertain Mankato.

The Winona rink was completed this year and practice sessions will get underway this coming week. Rochester is waiting for ice while the Mankato and St. Paul teams already have worked out. Owatonna and Faribault, the newcomers in the league this year, plan to start soon.

FIGHT RESULTS

El Rio, Calif.—Danny Flores, Los Angeles flyweight, defeated Dick Chang, Honolulu Chinaman, in four rounds here last night.

San Francisco, Calif.—Johnny Priston, Honolulu welterweight, knocked out Billy Adams of New Orleans in the sixth round of their scheduled 10 round bout here last night. Pablo Dano, Filipino flyweight, defeated Frankie Murray, in the semi-final.

New York — Dominick Petrone, 124, Harlem, defeated Johnny Green, 122, Harlem, in a feature ten round bout at the Pioneer Athletic club. Terry Roth, 116, knocked out Joe Ferrentino, 116, in the third round of a six round semi-final.

STILL DISCUSS 'ROBBERY' CHARGE

UMPIRE SCHOMMER CRITICIZED FOR CLOSE DECISION IN NOTRE DAME-U. S. C. GAME

Los Angeles, Dec. 1.—(UP)—Responsibility for the decision in a play that decided the Notre Dame-U. S. C. football game Saturday was the foremost question in the discussion of the "robbery" charge of Captain Morley Drury today.

Umpire John Schommer in Chicago declined to accept the blame for the decision of whether Riley, Notre Dame quarterback, intercepted or knocked down a Trojan forward pass. The "knock down" decision gave the Irish a 7 to 6 victory, whereas if the play was called intercepted, the Trojans would have scored a safety to make the score 8 to 7 and reverse the victory.

Glenn Scooby "Pop" Warner, Stanford University coach, who witnessed the game, sided with Drury. "The decision made by Schommer was absolutely wrong," Warner declared. "It robbed U. S. C. of a well-earned victory."

Drury refused to add anything to his "robbed" declaration. Coach Howard Jones also refused further comment.

John Griffith, field judge of the game, said he believed Schommer erred in his decision.

COUNTY SEAT FIGHT DISTURBS LYDIA PEOPLE

Glencoe, Minn., Dec. 1.—(UP)—Delegations of citizens from Lydia today sought a restraining order to prevent action by the Scott county board of commissioners in considering a petition asking removal of the county seat from Shakopee to Jordan. The hearing was held before Judge C. M. Tift.

Canzoneri to Meet Fernandez

New York — Tony Canzoneri, of Brooklyn, prominent contender for the vacant featherweight championship, will meet Ignacio Fernandez, Filipino, in a ten round bout at Madison Square Garden tonight. Fernandez replaces Bud Taylor, bantamweight champion, who injured his hand in training. Taylor was suspended indefinitely by the New York State athletic commission because of his failure to meet Canzoneri.

SPORT TABLOIDS

Saguero Favorite Over Chuck Burns
Chicago — Releaux Saguero, hard hitting Cuban, ruled a 7 to 5 favorite over Chuck Burns, of San Antonio, Tex., as they finished training for their 10 round match here tonight. Lope Tenerio, Filipino, and Frankie Schaeffer meet in the semi-final.

New Basketball Coach of Illini
Jacksonville, Ill. — Fred Diwocky, former all-Pacific coast basketball guard, has been appointed coach of basketball at Illinois college.

Funeral Rites for Edward Wittenberg
Hartland, Wis.—Funeral services were held here yesterday for Edward Wittenberg, star golfer and basketball guard of the Marquette university. He died of pneumonia.

FORMER BANK CASHIER TO GO ON TRIAL AT VIRGINIA SOON

Virginia, Minn., Dec. 1.—(UP)—John Adelisch, former bank cashier here will go on trial in district court December 7 charged in two indictments with third degree forgery and obstructing an examination of the bank's books by the state banking commission.

Bondsmen for Adelisch were ordered to produce him in court. He is at liberty under bond of $2,000.

RAILWAY FILES TRUST INDENTURE

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 1.—(UP)—A trust indenture on $80,000,000 secured gold bonds was filed today with the secretary of state by the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad and the National City bank of New York, as trustee.

The indenture provides for the issuance at once of $40,000,000 bonds at 4½ per cent interest, and due Sept. 1, 1952, and the remainder later.

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 1.—(UP)—After warning his daughter that he would shoot himself, Rudolph Unzeitig, 38, calmly placed a revolver against his head and pulled the trigger. At the city hospital it was said that the bullet did not inflict a serious wound.

Unzeitig, according to his daughter, has been melancholy since his wife left him several days ago.

SPECIAL RULING AFFECTS LAKES

Mouse Spearing Opens Today in Minnesota; Closes on Feb. 1

17 LAKES CLOSED

Certain Sections of Three Lakes Are Opened by Order of the Commissioner

Two men sat smoking their pipes around a hole in the ice sheltered by a board construction early today. They were peering anxiously into the water and with spears raised, were awaiting their quarry. A sudden thrust and a whitefish gleamed in the frigid depths and was pulled squirming out of the water.

This scene is being enacted today as the season for fish house spearing opens in Minnesota, to continue on through to February 1.

But many of the lakes in this county as well as throughout the state are closed by order of the state Game and Fish Commissioner, J. F. Gould. The following lakes in this county will be closed to fish house spearing: Bertha, Cross, Eagle, Kenney, Nokay, Platte, Pine, Long, Little Whitefish, Big Whitefish, Big Trout, Clamshell, Clearwater, Rush, Crooked and Mitchell.

Special ruling will affect the following lakes: Pelican, north end closed, south end open; Lake Edward, west side closed, east side open; North Long, east end open at Parker's Point, west end open starting about 100 feet on east side of old Mahlum bridge, main part of big lake to be closed.

License dealers reported today that the licenses had not yet arrived in this city but that applications were being taken for the licenses, which would be sent when received.

The dealers stated that spearing would be permitted to those who had made application for their licenses.

The season is open for the spearing of pickerel, buffalofish, whitefish, suckers, redhorse, carp, dogfish, sheepshead, celpout, garfish, bullheads, tullibees. The license costs one dollar.

FINED $25 FOR SLAPPING BOY

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 1.—(UP)—It cost John Cratsley $25 to slap a 6-year-old boy who bumped into him on the street, when he was arraigned in police court today.

The boy was Eric Lind, and his father, Nathan Lind filed assault and battery charges against Cratsley.

The boy said he ran against Cratsley while playing tag. Cratsley said, however, that the boy tried to grab a bag out of his hand, and that he gave him a shaking.

Lind testified that his son's face was discolored from being slapped.

Chicago—The Montreal Canadiens hockey team defeated the Chicago Blackhawks, 5 to 2, here last night.

CAMPUS POLITICS

Happy the college coach who works unhampered by campus politics. Things got so bad at Ohio State this year that the athletic authorities were forced to introduce a striking innovation.

Hereafter, Buckeye teams will have no captains.

Dr. John Wilce and the other coaches will appoint a leader for each game, and after the season is over, the letter men may, if they choose, elect an honorary captain who can hold the ball when the group picture of the team is taken.

In this way, Ohio State hopes to offset the evils of a system whereby fraternities and campus cliques thought more of electing a member of their group to the captaincy than in helping to produce a winning team.

Most colleges will prefer to retain the system whereby a captain is elected each season and leads the team under the direction of the coach.

Sometimes, of course, the captain has more to say than the coach. Apparently this was the case at Penn State this fall.

Captain Roepke seemed to be in charge of practice, to assign the men to their positions and to run things generally, with Hugo Bezdek rather silent on the side-lines.

The Nittany Lions had a successful season, losing only one game, for all they were known as "communistic."

Ohio State certainly did not have a successful season, and the campus politicians were ready to destroy Dr. Wilce before the season was half over.

The coach stuck to his guns, however, and apparently has no intention of resigning, even now that it's all over. Dr. Wilce blamed the football team's poor showing upon "prima donna ball carrying backs."

It was demonstrated this season that an eleven has got to have good interference for its ball carriers before it can advance. Good interference was precisely what Ohio State hadn't. Eby and the others were great at running with the ball, but nobody wanted to take up the humble, less appreciated task of clearing the way for them.

At times, the Ohio State ball carriers reminded one of the giant negro who was introduced to football for the first time in a game against a rival colored team.

Taking the ball from the center on the first play, he charged around end, stepping high and shouting:

"Interference, follow me!"

Yale and Notre Dame, two of the year's best teams, got where they did because of an excellent system of interference.

Next to a quick charging line, there is nothing quite so conducive to consistent advancement upon the gridiron.

This brings up a point for consideration in connection with the "All-America" teams with which the newspapers are flooded just now. If your team contains four brilliant ball carriers for its backfield, but no Becker or Flanagan to act as interference, what then?

It was demonstrated this season that an eleven has got to have good interference for its ball carriers before it can advance. Good interference was precisely what Ohio State hadn't. Eby and the others were great at running with the ball, but nobody wanted to take up the humble, less appreciated task of clearing the way for them.

At times, the Ohio State ball carriers reminded one of the giant negro who was introduced to football for the first time in a game against a rival colored team.

Taking the ball from the center on the first play, he charged around end, stepping high and shouting: "Interference, follow me!"

Yale and Notre Dame, two of the year's best teams, got where they did because of an excellent system of interference.

Next to a quick charging line, there is nothing quite so conducive to consistent advancement upon the gridiron.

This brings up a point for consideration in connection with the "All-America" teams with which the newspapers are flooded just now. If your team contains four brilliant ball carriers for its backfield, but no Becker or Flanagan to act as interference, what then?

CLASSIFICATIONS ARE DISCUSSED

Henry Hoffmann, Committee Chairman, in Extended Report to the Rotary Club

Such Record Achieved at Last Session Held on November 22 at Ransford Hotel

Classifications were discussed at the meeting of the Rotary club Tuesday. Henry Hoffmann, chairman of the committee and R. R. Gould, committee member, presented their findings regarding the classification of present members and the classifications that are open. Copies of the essential features of the report are to be made and given the members for further study.

S. R. Adair spoke on the Boy Scouts and the financial campaign being conducted.

President William A. Spencer named the "On to Superior" committee, C. N. Erickson, J. P. Anderson and Harold Wallin.

The aims and objects committee will meet this Wednesday evening at 7:45 o'clock at the postoffice. Chairmen of all committees are also requested to be in attendance.

Secretary G. W. Chadbourne announced last meeting to have registered 100 per cent attendance and that he expected to repeat these figures on November 29.

The speaker of the day last session was Judge Bert Fessler of Duluth, now holding district court in Brainerd. Judge Fessler voiced his appreciation of the work done on the bench by Judge W. S. McClenahan. He said Judge McClenahan stood high in the estimation of bench and bar and in his long service he had decided some of the most important cases to be heard in the state. Judge McClenahan, in the past, had frequently been called upon to hear cases in Duluth and other districts.

BIBLE SERIES CLOSES

Rev. Morris L. Eversz Discusses the Adequacy of the Bible as a Revelation

Rev. Morris L. Eversz closed his series of Sunday evening sermons on the Bible with a discussion of the adequacy of the Bible as a revelation from God affecting man's salvation, his character and his destiny. Basing the discussion on St. Luke 16-21, "If they hear not Moses and the prophets neither would they be persuaded though one arose from the dead," Mr. Eversz said that a disembodied spirit would have to provide by miracle the divinity of his mission to be accredited.

He would have to proclaim more important truths than those announced in the scriptures. Rev. Eversz continued. He would have to use stronger arguments. He would have to go all over the world repeatedly and appeal to each individual separately. The frequency of such a spirit's visit would destroy the novelty of them. A disembodied spirit would not be able to remove obstacles in the way of any person's salvation. They are in himself, his selfishness, pride, sinful thoughts and evil purposes. A disembodied spirit would have to use earthly language to convey unearthly ideas. He would be compelled to express a set of ethereal conceptions taken into an incorporeal existence for which earth has no analogy. St. Paul felt it when caught up into the third heaven he saw and heard things unlawful to utter, the speaker concluded.

Resist The Temptation To Charge It

Now is the time of the year when the average man and woman start making lists of all the gifts they must give this coming Christmas, and now, more than at any other time, the temptation arises to take advantage of charge accounts or installment plans.

Don't do it. Charge accounts make you less critical of the values you are getting and more inclined to purchase presents that are twice as expensive as you should afford.

A study of the living and shopping habits of 1232 families in the typical American town of Zanesville, Ohio, showed that 71.1 of the homes maintained no charge accounts and that 16.7 per cent maintained only one. In 36 other American cities the percentage between "no charge account" and "one charge account" was found to be 50.9 and 19.9, respectively.

These figures seem to prove that the American family is overwhelmingly "sold" on the policy of paying cash. Don't backslide.

SYNOPSIS

Hurricane Haley, skipper of the sealing schooner "Sea Sprite," kidnaps Polly, a dancer from the Riverside, a dance hall on the dock of Frisco. Though Hurricane treats the girl with great severity she does not mind, and when the crew mutinies she takes his side. Led by Brady, the crew rush Haley but for some time they are held in check by his ready revolver. A dense fog surrounds the "Sea Sprite" and as the battle rages around her decks a steamer bound for San Francisco rams the schooner. The mate, Brady, who leads the mutineers, is killed and due to the efforts of Haley the schooner escapes with little damage. The steamer leaves to aid and awaits to see the extent of the damage.

Turning now, he watched the girl's face, and the terror and disappointment that he saw there almost changed his mind. Then as his eyes turned away, unable to stand her glance, they noticed the body of Brady covered with a piece of dirty sail-cloth. She was the cause of this, and steeling himself again he turned back to her, and in the most casual voice that he could assume, a voice that he hoped would be hard and terse, but merely managed to be toneless, said, "Get your gear together. You're goin' back to Frisco on this steamer."

Slowly the consternation in her face changed to anger and resentment. She saw now, the reason for his actions. The petty smallness of them surprised and disgusted her, and she stamped her foot in almost the old manner as she faced him.

"Why must I?" she asked.

Hurricane did not look at her, as he answered; he gazed moodily over her head out at the sea, and there was little expression in his voice.

"You've bred trouble enough on this craft, an' you're goin' home."

The injustice of the words brought

a rush of blood to Polly's face, and forgetting all else she stared at him steadily, and her face a mask of fury said bitterly:

"Gee, but I'd hate to be as mean as you are. I thought you were so big an' clean, but you're smaller than the rottenest of your crew. You're like a boy with a fly. It ain't enough for you to kill it, you've got to pull it to pieces slowly. I know why you're sending me back. Not because you don't want me, but because you know that I want to stay!"

Hurricane did not even look at her. He knew that she was speaking the truth, and surprised in spite of himself, he turned to the mate.

"Come on down, Bronson. We want your signature on these papers," and the three men went below, leaving Polly standing there.

The wind was freshening, and little by little the fog was leaving and the waves that she loved so well began to whiten with foam. A storm was coming, and Polly loved to watch the wind swept waves rush past the scudding Sea Sprite. Angriest she stamped her feet. This was the man that she was prepared to give her life for. The man who had made a mock of her every effort. The old Polly began to assert herself. If he could be mean enough to spite himself to hurt her further she would not be the one that gave in first. He had asked for payment, and if it killed her to do it, he should be paid. With one last look at the sea and the gulls wheeling in the schooner's wake she hurried below, and began to throw her things into her bag.

First there was the little dancing dress, old now, and patched, but valuable because, well she didn't quite know why, but somehow she just wanted to keep it. There were a few female articles, all torn and carefully mended, and these too followed the dress. She paused a little over her overalls, but then, with a defiant toss of her head she crammed them in. She had earned them.

RAMON NOVARDO in "BEN HUR"

The thrill of adventure in many lands is presented by the story of "Ben Hur" as portrayed by Ramon Novarro in the $4,000,000 picture of that name and now showing at the Lyceum theatre. This favorite star represents a comely, bold and chivalrous Judean who is by turns prince, galley slave, Roman favorite, charioteer, soldier of God, and a disciple of the Master. It is indeed a taxing and many-sided role, and Novarro is adding myriads of friends to his already long list of "fans" by his beautiful acting as well as physical comeliness. Never has there been a picture the equal of "Ben Hur" and no one should miss seeing it.

Superior, Wis., Nov. 30.—(UP)—A murder and suicide theory was expressed by police following the finding of the bodies of two young Detroit, Mich., persons in a rooming house here today. They were found shot to death.

Julia Salmi, 23, and Christ Olsen, 25, were the victims.

Indications were that Olsen killed his companion and then shot himself, police said.

A public reception to be held by local dealers is part of the national introduction of the new Ford models. In thousand of communities all over the United States tomorrow this new line of moderate-priced light automobiles will be introduced to millions of people.

The doors of the showrooms are to be opened promptly at 8 A. M. and attendants will be on hand throughout the remainder of the day to explain the new and interesting features of the car which is expected to make a new chapter in automotive history.

Among the visitors to the reception tomorrow will be many city officials, executives of business, civic and professional organizations and other leaders in the life of the community.

The Walter P. Tyrholm Company have been notified by Ford officials at Detroit that the factories throughout the country are now preparing to produce the new cars in numbers exceeding even the tremendous production records achieved in the manufacture of the Model T line.

Company officials at Detroit also repeated their early announcement that production of the new Ford line will not make the Model T line obsolete. The manufacture of new parts for Model T replacements will continue to be an important factor of the Ford plans as long as any of the Model T cars are still in operation, the local dealers were advised. Because of this policy, present owners of Model T Ford cars will be able to keep their cars in perfect order as long as those cars remain in commission.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Help Kidneys By Drinking More Water

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys and Help Neutralize Irritating Acids

Kidney and bladder irritations often result from acidity, says a noted authority. The kidneys help filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it may remain to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread; the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is often one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Begin drinking lots of soft water, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast. Continue this for two or three days. ## SYNOPSIS

Hurricane Haley, skipper of the sailing schooner "Sea Sprite," kidnaps Polly, a dancer from the Riverside, a dance hall on the dock of Frisco. Though Hurricane treats the girl with great severity she does not mind, and when the crew mutinies she takes his side. Led by Brady, the crew rush Haley but for some time they are held in check by his ready revolver. A dense fog surrounds the "Sea Sprite" and as the battle rages around her decks a steamer bound for San Francisco rams the schooner. The mate, Brady, who leads the mutineers, is killed and due to the efforts of Haley the schooner escapes with little damage. The steamer heaves to and awaits to see the extent of the damage.

Turning now, he watched the girl's face, and the terror and disappointment that he saw there almost changed his mind. Then as his eyes turned away, unable to stand her glance, they noticed the body of Brady covered with a piece of dirty sail-cloth. She was the cause of this, and steeling himself again he turned back to her, and in the most casual voice that he could assume, a voice that he hoped would be hard and terse, but merely managed to be toneless, said, "Get your gear together. You're goin' back to Frisco on this steamer."

Slowly the consternation in her face changed to anger and resentment. She saw now, the reason for his actions. The petty smallness of them surprised and disgusted her, and she stamped her foot in almost the old manner as she faced him. "Why must I?" she asked.

Hurricane did not look at her, as he answered; he gazed moodily over her head out at the sea, and there was little expression in his voice.

"You've bred trouble enough on this craft, and you're goin' home."

The injustice of the words brought

a rush of blood to Polly's face, and forgetting all else she stared at him steadily, and her face a mask of fury said bitterly:

"Gee, but I'd hate to be as mean as you are. I thought you were so big an' clean, but you're smaller than the rottenness of your crew. You're like a boy with a fly. It ain't enough for you to kill it, you've got to pull it to pieces slowly. I know why you're sending me back. Not because you don't want me, but because you know that I want to stay!"

Hurricane did not even look at her. He knew that she was speaking the truth, and surprised in spite of himself, he turned to the mate.

"Come on down, Bronson. We want your signature on these papers," and the three men went below, leaving Polly standing there.

The wind was freshening, and little by little the fog was leaving and the waves that she loved so well began to whiten with foam. A storm was coming, and Polly loved to watch the wing swept waves rush past the scudding Sea Sprite. Angriest she stamped her feet. This was the man that she was prepared to give her life for. The man who had made a mock of her every effort. The old Polly began to assert herself. If he could be mean enough to spite himself to hurt her further she would not be the one that gave in first. He had asked for payment, and if it killed her to do it, he should be paid. With one last look at the sea and the gulls wheeling in the schooner's wake she hurried below, and began to throw her things into her bag.

First there was the little dancing dress, old now, and patched, but valuable because, well she didn't quite know why, but somehow she just wanted to keep it. There were a few female articles, all torn and carefully mended, and these too followed the dress. She paused a little over her overalls, but then, with a defiant toss of her head she crammed them in. She had earned them.

RAMON NOVARDO in "BEN HUR"

The thrill of adventure in many lands is presented by the story of "Ben Hur" as portrayed by Ramon Novarro in the $4,000,000 picture of that name and now showing at the Lyceum theatre. This favorite star fitsly represents a comely, bold and chivalrous Judean who is by turns prince, galley slave, Roman favorite, charioteer, soldier of God, and a disciple of the Master. It is indeed a taxing and many-sided role, and Novarro is adding myriads of friends to his already long list of "fans" by his beautiful acting as well as physical comeliness. Never has there been a picture the equal of "Ben Hur" and no one should miss seeing it.

Superior, Wis., Nov. 30.—(UP)—A murder and suicide theory was expressed by police following the finding of the bodies of two young Detroit, Mich., persons in a rooming house here today. They were found shot to death.

Julia Salmi, 23, and Christ Olsen, 25, were the victims.

Indications were that Olsen killed his companion and then shot himself, police said.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies Are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value their even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair, which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.
